Meeting Your Financial Aid Requirements

Important Notes:
• Your financial aid award for the 2015-2016 academic year was developed to help meet your estimated educational expenses (student budget) according to federal, state, and institutional regulations.
• There are three elements that assist us in determining students’ financial aid awards: 1) Estimated Educational Expenses (Student Budget), 2) Expected Family Contribution (EFC) determined by the FAFSA, and 3) Financial need which is determined by subtracting the EFC from the Student Budget.
• All awards are based on available funds, Federal Pell Grant eligibility, outside resources, class level, major, prior degree, aggregate loan limits, residency, state and federal regulation, institutional philosophy, and full-time enrollment. Awards may be reduced if you attend part-time (see page 19, 20, and 21 for more information).
• Colorado State University has the right to revise or cancel awards if funds are unavailable, your application contains incorrect data, or your financial situation or enrollment status changes.
• The total of all aid offered and additional resources cannot exceed your estimated 2015-2016 educational expenses for attending CSU.

Frequently Asked Questions

What is RAMweb?
RAMweb provides general and personal information online to you as a student, including your financial aid information. See page 27 for more information about RAMweb.

What is FAMweb?
FAMweb provides students the ability to designate family and trusted individual(s) to have secure online access to view selected educational records from the student’s file. FAMweb access to families and trusted individuals is granted and removed by CSU students on RAMweb. Select Change My Access to My Records (FAMweb). Families and trusted individuals can access FAMweb at famweb.colostate.edu/famweb.

What is an eID?
An eIdentity (eID) is a unique identifier for each authorized user at Colorado State University. All students, faculty, and staff need an eID to access many of the electronic services (eServices) on campus including RAMweb. Your eID consists of a login name (eName) and password of your choice. You can establish your eID at eid.colostate.edu after applying to CSU.

What is a CSU Identifier (CSUID)?
Your CSUID is your 9-digit-numeric identifier beginning with the number “8,” and is used for official CSU person-to-person interactions. You must provide your CSUID whenever you or your parents contact SFS.

What email address does SFS use to communicate with me?
SFS uses the email you established with your eID. This is your “rams” email address. If this email has not been established, we will communicate with you using the email you provided on your application for admission.

How do I obtain my Federal Student Aid (FSA) ID?
The FSA ID — a username and password — has replaced the Federal Student Aid PIN and must be used to log in to certain U.S. Department of Education websites. Your FSA ID confirms your identity when you access your financial aid information and electronically sign Federal Student Aid documents. If you do not already have an FSA ID, you can create one when logging in to fafsa.gov, or the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) at nslds.ed.gov.

What is the College Opportunity Fund?
The College Opportunity Fund (COF) provides state tax dollars to colleges and universities on behalf of eligible undergraduate Colorado resident students paying in-state tuition. Semester COF amounts are determined by the current stipend amount multiplied by the number of COF eligible credits a student is registered for at the end of course add/course drop. Students must apply for and authorize COF on RAMweb. COF is not considered financial aid, therefore, it will only be visible on your University billing statement. View RAMweb alerts 3 months prior to the start of the term for outstanding COF requirements.

Students must provide their social security number (SSN) or a COF assigned ID number to CSU. This enables CSU to request the stipend from the state. More information at sfs.colostate.edu.

How can I check to see if I have met all of my financial aid requirements?
Go to ramweb.colostate.edu and select Financial Aid and then the appropriate award year to see if you have met your financial aid requirements. For credit requirements, refer to page 19.

Am I eligible for financial aid if I am in a Continuous Registration status or on approved Planned Undergraduate Leave?
No, graduate students in Continuous Registration status or undergraduates on approved Planned Undergraduate Leave are not eligible to receive financial aid and are not eligible for an in-school deferment on their previous student loans because they are not registered for actual credits.

What are the credit requirements to reach each class level?
- Freshman = 0-29 credits
- Sophomore = 30-59 credits
- Junior = 60-89 credits
- Senior = 90+ credits

Our family income has been reduced since I applied for financial aid. What should I do?
If you or your parents have had a reduction in income from 2014 to 2015 and you think you may need additional help from financial aid, complete the 2015-2016 FAFSA. After you have been awarded financial aid, contact an SFS representative to discuss options.

What financial aid can I receive if I am graduating at the end of fall semester?

Generally, students can receive the fall portion of their academic year financial aid; however, credit requirements may impact award amounts. The maximum Federal Direct Student Loan amount for graduating seniors who are enrolled for only one semester is pro-rated based on the number of credits in which the student is enrolled.

I just graduated from CSU and would like to come back and take some additional courses next semester. Am I eligible for financial aid?

If you have received your bachelor’s degree, you must be admitted to either a second bachelor’s or a graduate degree program to be eligible to receive financial aid. If the coursework you are taking is required for admission to a second bachelor’s or graduate degree program at CSU, obtain written documentation on CSU letterhead from your department and then contact SFS. Documentation should include specific required courses and the semesters you will take the courses. Enrollment must be at least 6 credits.

Can I receive financial aid based on a federal income tax return extension?

Students and/or parents who have filed a federal tax extension must turn in copies of all 2014 W-2 statements along with their IRS tax extension, Form 4868. We will offer federal direct loans based on properly filed federal income tax return extensions, but we will not credit financial aid to your University student account until we have received your and/or your parent’s completed 2014 IRS data retrieval match or IRS federal income tax transcript due by November 15. If the actual tax figures are different from the estimates, your financial aid may be adjusted. Contact SFS if your federal income tax return will not be filed by October 15. Tax transcripts may be obtained at www.irs.gov/transcript.

I’ve already been awarded financial aid. Now I have received a request for my IRS federal income tax transcript/additional information. Why?

Although students are usually asked to verify their student aid application data before their financial aid is awarded, they may be selected for verification at any time. It is also possible that you may be selected as part of the Quality Assurance (QA) program. This program is a quality control model developed by the U.S. Department of Education and replaces traditional verification. Students are selected randomly and must provide documentation to verify information provided on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Changes made as a result of this review may affect financial aid eligibility. Participation is mandatory and non-compliance can result in the cancellation of all financial aid.

Why does CSU require a tax transcript instead of a copy of the actual tax return?

The tax transcript is the official copy of an individual’s federal tax return. You can easily obtain a PDF copy of your tax transcript online at http://www.irs.gov/Individuals/Get-Transcript. Visit the SFS website for various ways to obtain a transcript.

Will my financial aid be adjusted if I receive a scholarship or other resource?

The total of your resources and financial aid cannot exceed your yearly estimated educational expenses for attending CSU. Resources, such as scholarships, graduate assistanships, fellowships, vocational rehabilitation benefits, alternative loans, etc., must be reported to SFS. We may have to reduce your financial aid due to these resources. When possible, we reduce loans first.

Is financial aid available to help cover child care expenses?

Yes, you may be eligible for additional Federal Direct Loan to cover your child care expenses. Contact an SFS representative for more information.

Is financial aid available to help cover the cost of a computer?

Yes, you may be eligible for additional Federal Direct Loan to cover the cost of a computer. Contact an SFS representative for more information.

Is financial aid available for summer school?

Yes; summer financial aid consists of any remaining Federal Direct Loan eligibility for undergraduates and graduates, and any remaining Federal Pell Grant for undergraduates. You must be degree-seeking and registered for at least 6 credits undergraduate (5 credits graduate) to apply for and to receive federal aid for summer session. Information about Summer Financial Aid will be available on RAMweb in April. In some cases you may be eligible to apply for an alternative loan. Contact an SFS representative if you want to discuss your options.
Top 10 College Money Management Tips

Top 10 money management tips students and their families find helpful:

1. Applying for federal financial aid at CSU is free at www.fafsa.gov. There are some companies that charge a fee to assist you in applying for financial aid. Most families have told us they did not feel this was a good use of their money.

2. Budget your costs and resources so you can borrow as little loan as possible. Utilize the Paying for College Budget Worksheet Estimator on page 9.

3. Check the bottom line; will your career support your final loan debt?

5. Work 10-15 hours per week during the school year and earn $2,720 to $5,040. See pages 12-13 for more information.

6. Review scholarship information on our website, sfs.colostate.edu. Scholarships are a great resource to help pay for an education. Also consider creating your own scholarship. See the next section for details.

7. Know payment due dates for each semester to avoid late penalties; see page 21.

8. Work with your academic advisor to map out your classes and graduate in four years instead of five years.

9. Borrow a reasonable amount of student loans while in college so the loan repayments won’t cause you to live like a college student later.

10. Read all emails from our office and contact us if you have questions.

Self-Created Scholarships

Self-created scholarships are ways that students can reduce some of their costs while they are in college. See examples below:

- Latte Scholarship – make your own coffee instead of buying coffee out
- Book Scholarship – buy used books or rent books instead of buying new books
- Rent Scholarship – find a roommate and reasonable rent that includes all utilities
- Car Scholarship – watch the car drain on your budget; financial aid funds for an education do not include car payments or car insurance
- Transportation Scholarships – ride your bike or take the bus for free
- Parking Scholarship – avoid parking tickets and parking permit costs
- Late Penalty Scholarship – pay all bills early or on time to avoid late penalties

Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Grants

Is there a limit on how much Federal Pell Grant I can receive?

Yes, the Department of Education limits student eligibility for Federal Pell Grant funds to the equivalent of 12 full-time semesters or 600%. Students are notified by the Department of Education when they are close to reaching this limit.

What is the CSU Commitment to Colorado Funding?

CSU’s Commitment to Colorado funding provides Colorado students who have a family Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) on their most recently filed federal income tax return(s) of $57,000 or less (and who meet other eligibility requirements) with grant funds from federal, state, and University sources to cover at least one-half the cost of student share of base tuition. Students who are eligible for Federal Pell Grant may be eligible to receive grant funds to cover at least 100% of student share of base tuition and standard fees.

Are other forms needed to qualify for the Commitment to Colorado funding?

New freshmen and transfer students may be asked to complete the CSU Institutional Aid Application via RAMweb in addition to completing the FAFSA. Information provided on the CSU Institutional Aid Application will be used to accurately award Commitment to Colorado funds based on a comprehensive analysis of a family’s ability to pay for college.
Scholarships

Scholarships do not need to be repaid.

| Institutional Scholarships | Institutional scholarships are funded by CSU and are awarded to students who demonstrate academic excellence, leadership qualities, or outstanding talent. Requirements vary by individual scholarship. Note: Students may be eligible for institutional scholarships for a maximum of eight total consecutive semesters (Fall/Spring), or when they have completed the requirements to graduate; whichever comes first. |

Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Scholarships

What are the enrollment requirements to receive my institutional scholarships?

You must maintain enrollment in at least 12 (undergraduate) or 9 (graduate) credits per semester (one class must be a regular instruction on-campus class) and be enrolled at the main campus (not through CSU Online). Test-Out and audited courses are not applicable towards these credit requirements. If you are a study abroad student, you must be placed in a University-approved study abroad program (not through CSU Online) in order to receive your institutional scholarships.

Where should my donor send my scholarship check?

Send or bring all scholarship checks to Student Financial Services. We will process the scholarship check(s) and apply the funds to your University student account. Detailed steps can be found at sfs.colostate.edu in the scholarship section.

When is the best time to start a scholarship search and how should I proceed with my search?

The best time to start a scholarship search is during December for the next academic year; many deadlines are in February and March. Complete the CSU Scholarship Application (CSUSA) available on RAMweb beginning in December. The deadline is March 1. Use the CSUSA to apply for many CSU scholarships including those awarded by Student Financial Services and the academic colleges. Visit our website at sfs.colostate.edu to view information on scholarships at Colorado State University, free online scholarship searches, and scholarships outside of Colorado State University.

How do I verify my University registration for my outside scholarship donor?

If a scholarship donor requires verification of your registration, you may use the Scholarship Registration Verification Letter available on RAMweb.
Work-Study

Work-Study is money you earn by working. Wages earned are automatically deposited into your personal bank account every two weeks.

Federal Work-Study – Funded by the federal government
State Work-Study – Funded by the Colorado General Assembly

Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Work-Study

What is work-study?
Your work-study award enables you to work at a part-time job, that you have located, during the school year and earn money for your educational expenses. Not only will you be able to earn money, the work experience you gain may make you more marketable to potential employers after you graduate. You may also have the opportunity to develop working relationships with faculty, staff, and other student employees.

What do you mean by work-study award amount?
Work-study awards are currently $3000 and are typically the amount you can earn during the academic year; however, some employers may be able to pay you hourly beyond the work-study award. Employers are enthusiastic about hiring work-study students for both on- and off-campus jobs. Both the employers and the work-study program pay your wages, with 30% paid by employers and 70% paid from federal or state work-study funds.

How do I find a work-study job?
Once you have been awarded a work-study award, go to RAMweb and select Student Job Listing, or contact employers directly. Postings include information such as pay rate, job description, hours, job requirements and how to apply. Some jobs may allow you to apply online. Student Employment Services does not place students in jobs, but can assist if you are having difficulties finding a job. It is recommended that you locate a job within the first four weeks of school when employment opportunities are at their highest.

Where can I work?
Both on- and off-campus jobs through government and nonprofit agencies are available through our work-study program. We also have an off-campus Federal Community Service Work-Study program.

What is Federal Community Service Work-Study?
The Federal Community Service Work-Study program is popular with our students since it offers unique work opportunities and positions that help the local community. Examples of these types of positions include tutors in local schools, positions in both state and federal government agencies, and positions in human service agencies.

What types of jobs are available?
A wide variety of positions are available. Some examples are clerical, data entry, computer lab assistant, research technician, tutor, staff assistant, campus recreation worker, and lab assistant.

How do I receive my work-study money?
You will be paid by direct deposit to your personal bank account and you determine how you will use the funds to pay your educational expenses. You are paid by your employer for the hours you work. Paydays are every two weeks.

Are there credit requirements for work-study?
Each semester, students who have been awarded any type of work-study must be enrolled in at least 6 credits as an undergraduate or 5 credits as a graduate. For other campus student hourly jobs, students must be enrolled in at least 1 credit each term or be registered as Continuous Registration or Planned Undergraduate Leave.

What is the average pay rate?
The average hourly rate for positions for the calendar year 2014 is $9.69 per hour for work-study and $10.78 per hour for student hourly.

I wasn’t offered work-study. How can I request it?
You may request a work-study award by contacting Student Financial Services right after you have been awarded your financial aid. Students may also request increases in their award amounts. Work-study requests will be considered based on the availability of work-study funds and your eligibility. In some cases, the work-study award will reduce your Federal Direct Loan.

By working at a part-time job during the academic year (32 weeks), you may be able to earn the amounts shown on the Estimated Earnings Chart.

Positions are funded by the University.

Colorado State University Student Employment Services posts open positions for students for self-referral and makes no particular recommendations regarding employers. We make no representations or guarantees about positions listed. We are not responsible for safety, wages, working conditions, or other aspects of off-campus employment. Due to the volume of job listings received, we are unable to confirm the integrity of each organization or person who lists a job. Therefore, you are encouraged to undertake this responsibility yourself. For tips on avoiding employment scams, visit http://ses.colostate.edu/employment-scams

What is full-time enrollment?

You are enrolled full-time at 12 credits as an undergraduate or 9 credits as a graduate/veterinary medical student. Audit, Test-Out, unapproved repeated courses (see page 24 for more information), and non-degree-applicable courses do not count toward enrollment for financial aid.

What if I enroll in credits that do not count toward my degree program?

You may be ineligible to receive financial aid if you enroll in credits that do not apply to your specific degree program. Credits that do not apply to your specific degree program do not count toward enrollment for financial aid.

Will my financial aid be adjusted if I enroll part-time?

Your financial aid award is based on full-time enrollment. If you are enrolled part-time, your estimated educational expenses are less and your financial aid may be reduced. If you will be part-time, confirm your enrollment on RAMweb Financial Aid. See page 21 for more information.

Will my financial aid be adjusted if I receive a U, F, I, or W grade?

Colorado State University is required by federal regulations to monitor the last date of academic participation for financial aid recipients. A student who receives a U, F, I, or W grade in any class is subject to a review of eligibility and potential reduction or cancellation of financial aid.

Do my schedule changes during the course add/course drop period impact my eligibility for financial aid?

Yes, financial aid is paid based on the number of credits in which you are enrolled. As you add and/or drop classes during the course add/course drop period, your financial aid is adjusted. At the end of the course add/course drop period, when your schedule is finalized for the semester, your financial aid is also finalized based on your credits at that time. If you are enrolled part-time, your financial aid may be reduced. Your financial aid will not be increased if you add courses after the end of the course add/course drop period. You are not be eligible to receive the College Opportunity Fund for courses added after course add/course drop. Note: Federal Direct Loans pay based on your enrollment at the time of disbursement.
Impact of Online Credits on Financial Aid

To receive financial aid, you must be admitted to the University in a degree-seeking program and enrolled in 6 credits as an undergraduate student or 5 credits as a graduate student; anything less would be considered less than half-time.

Enrollment Information
• If you are taking both CSU Online and regular on-campus credits and you are less than full-time, your financial aid budget will include actual tuition and fees.
• Your initial financial aid award is based on full-time enrollment. If you’re enrolled less than full time, your estimated educational expenses are less and your financial aid may be reduced.
• If you are enrolled solely in telecommunications or online courses, your financial aid may be limited.
• Contract and certificate courses are not eligible for financial aid.

Correspondence Courses
• If you are enrolled only in correspondence courses, the only costs that can be included in your budget are tuition, fees, books, and supplies. Living expenses are not included. If you are enrolled only in 6 credits or more of correspondence courses, you are considered enrolled half-time.
• If you are enrolled in less than half-time regular on-campus credits or CSU Online credits with 3 correspondence credits, the only costs that can be included in your financial aid budget are tuition, fees, books, and supplies.

• If you are enrolled in correspondence courses and have been awarded a Federal Pell Grant, you must complete 50% of your coursework before you can receive your Federal Pell Grant. If you have been awarded a Federal SEOG, you must submit your first completed lesson to your professor and verification must be sent to SFS before you can receive your Federal SEOG.
• Although correspondence courses allow six months for completion, financial aid requires completion by the end of the current semester.

Financial Aid Refunds
• The timing of refunds for financial aid recipients who are registered in CSU Online programs will vary and may take up to two weeks after the beginning of the semester depending on the CSU Online program and course enrollment. Your financial aid may be adjusted based on your enrollment.
• Delays occur whenever registration changes, as this requires additional review.

Paying Your University Bill with Financial Aid

Billing Information:
- Each semester, after you have registered for classes and have met all other financial aid requirements, your financial aid (except work-study) is credited to your University student account. Financial aid first pays your University expenses for the semester and, if any funds are remaining, a refund is sent to you to use for your other educational expenses, including living expenses.
- Current financial aid cannot pay a prior year’s past due balance.
- Current financial aid can pay tuition, fees, room and board. However, financial aid cannot pay other institutional charges unless the student authorizes the University to do so. Other institutional charges may include, but are not limited to, books, supplies, health insurance, health fees, parking tickets, parking permits, or library fines.

Receiving Your Financial Aid Refund

Refunds:
- If your total financial aid (except work-study) exceeds your total University expenses, you will have a credit balance that will be refunded to you.
- The preferred refund method is by direct deposit to your personal bank account. These refunds are processed daily. You can sign up for direct deposit on RAMweb. You will need to provide your personal bank account number and routing number. If you do not sign-up for direct deposit, your refund will be issued by paper check. Refund checks are mailed on the 1st, 3rd, and 5th Friday of each month to your current mailing address.
- In order to have your refund sent shortly before the semester begins, you must be registered full-time.
- Financial aid recipients who are registered part-time will be sent a refund once the course add/course drop period is over. Your financial aid may be reduced based on your part-time enrollment. If you are an undergraduate student enrolled in less than 12 credits or a graduate student enrolled in less than 9 credits and want to confirm final registration to have your refund sent before the end of the course add/c course drop period, this can be done on RAMweb. Select Financial Aid starting in July for Fall and January for Spring semester.

- The timing of refunds for financial aid recipients who are registered in CSU Online programs may take two weeks after the beginning of the semester depending on the Online program and course enrollment. Your financial aid may be adjusted based on your enrollment.
- First date for direct deposit refunds to be in personal bank accounts:
  - Fall 2015 – Thursday, August 20, 2015
  - Spring 2016 – Thursday, January 14, 2016
- We will continue to send financial aid refunds throughout the semester, if and when a credit balance occurs on your University student account.
- You will be responsible for paying any additional charges that post to your University student account after a refund has been sent to you.
- Current information regarding refunds is available on RAMweb, select Billing Information.
Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) Information Sheet for Financial Aid

To qualify for and receive financial aid, students must make satisfactory academic progress in a program of study that will lead to a degree or teaching certificate, and must be in good academic standing at the University. When students apply for financial aid, their progress will be measured against the following standards. Having one or more of the following violations will result in an ineligibility of financial aid funds.

Financial Aid Warning
Students who do not meet the grade point average and/or cumulative pace SAP requirements, are placed on financial aid warning their next term of enrollment. At the end of the warning period, students will be reviewed for compliance of SAP eligibility criteria (listed above) and, if found to be in compliance, will continue to be eligible to receive financial aid for the following term. If the student does not meet the criteria listed above, the student will be put on a Financial Aid Violation and will not be eligible for financial aid.

Financial Aid Probation
Students who have successfully appealed a Satisfactory Academic Progress Violation are put on Financial Aid Probation. There are two types of Financial Aid Probation: the first type allows the student to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress within one term. The second type allows the student, based on an academic plan developed by the Satisfactory Academic Progress Appeals Committee, to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress by a specific point in time. Both types allow the student to receive financial aid while on probation. If the student does not meet Satisfactory Academic Progress within one term or does not meet the terms of their academic plan, the student will be put on a Financial Aid Violation and will not be eligible for financial aid.

Financial Aid Alert
Students who have reached 130 percent or more attempted credits toward their degree program will be put on Financial Aid Alert. This notifies the student that they are getting close to their Max Timeframe and may want to meet with their Academic Advisor to ensure that they are on time to complete their program before they become ineligible for financial aid. For most bachelor degree programs, this would leave them with 24 credits before they reach Max Timeframe. Students become ineligible for Financial Aid Funds once they have met 150 percent attempted credits of their degree program (see chart above). Students are eligible to receive financial aid while on alert.

SAP Appeal Process
Students may appeal a Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) violation by selecting the Financial Aid link on their RAMweb and completing the online appeal. The appeal must explain what extenuating circumstances occurred and a corrective action plan. Students must also submit third-party documentation of their extenuating circumstances. A student will have 30 days from the time they submit their appeal to provide their documentation. A committee will review the student's appeal and render a decision. The committee may ask for additional information or an academic plan. The committee's decision is final and is usually made within 2-3 weeks of when all documents are received. Students who have an appeal approved will generally have one semester to clear their violation or must meet the requirements set by the academic plan. Students who are denied may provide additional information not previously submitted for reconsideration.

Deadline for Appeal Consideration:
FALL - September 15
SPRING - February 15
SUMMER - June 15

Denials and Students Without Extenuating Circumstances
If a student's appeal is denied or a student does not have an extenuating circumstance, they may continue to attend CSU and pay for their education at their own expense or they may explore the option of an alternative loan through an outside lender that does not require satisfactory academic progress. Students who are on a Percent or GPA violation may be considered for a new appeal after they have completed two or more regular semesters at CSU or another school and can demonstrate their ability to succeed academically. Alternatively, a student could take leave from their schooling for the same two semesters and be considered for a new appeal. A student does not regain eligibility under these options, but would be considered for an appeal.
Total Attempted Credits
Colorado State University defines total attempted credits for a given class level (undergraduate, graduate, or PVM) as credits attempted at CSU, accepted for transfer, and all credits officially withdrawn from at CSU. Officially withdrawn credits are added with other attempted credits to determine attempted credits.

Academic Fresh Start
To be eligible to receive financial aid, academic fresh start students must be in compliance with the satisfactory academic progress standards when they apply for financial aid. Students who do not meet the SAP standards and who have extenuating circumstances may submit an appeal, which may require an academic plan.

University Scholastic Standards Policy
To be eligible for financial aid, students must comply with the University Scholastic Standards policy. The CSU Faculty Council Committee on Scholastic Standards and the Graduate School set scholastic standards and these are defined annually in the University’s general catalog. More information is available at http://catalog.colostate.edu/Content/files/2014/ FrontPDF/1.8SCHOLASTICSTNDS.pdf. The Center for Advising and Student Achievement (CASA) evaluates GPA and places students on academic probation (different from a financial aid violation) and/or academic dismissal.

Financial Aid Policy for Unofficial Withdrawals
Students who are assigned grades of “U” (Unsatisfactory), “F” (Failure), or “I” (Incomplete) for all courses in the term will be considered to have unofficially withdrawn from the University and will have federal aid adjusted based on the date of the latest academic event in which the student participated. An academically-related activity includes, but is not limited to, verifiable class attendance, an exam, a tutorial, computer-assisted instruction, turning in a class assignment, or attending an assigned study group session. If no academic event can be documented, 100% of federal, state, and institutional aid will be cancelled because the student never began attendance.

Financial Aid Policy on Repeated Courses
A student may qualify for and receive financial aid for no more than one repetition of a previously passed course. Each semester we will review the enrollment for each student receiving federal, state, and/or institutional aid. If an undergraduate student is repeating a course for the second time after having previously passed with a grade better than an “U,” “F,” “W,” “RF,” “NG,” and/or “NGC,” the course may not be included in determining the enrollment status for eligibility for aid.

There are courses that are repeatable due to course structure within departments that count toward degrees. Common repeatable courses include, but are not limited to, group study, internship, independent study, dissertation, thesis, and supervised college teaching courses. In addition, several performing arts course numbers are repeatable. This does not fall under the repeated coursework provision.
Withdrawal Policy

• To officially withdraw, regularly admitted undergraduate and graduate students must contact the Center for Advising and Student Achievement (CASA), at 121 TILT, (970) 491-7095.
• Consult CASA for policies regarding grades when withdrawing. If a student leaves the University and does not formally withdraw, they will be assigned grades of “F” (failing) and their financial aid may be canceled.
• Withdrawal doesn’t eliminate a student’s financial obligation to the University. The student is responsible for any charges owed to the University when they withdraw, based on the University’s tuition and housing refund policies. For the current policy, contact CASA, (970) 491-7095, and Housing and Dining Services, (970) 491-6511.
• There are federal, state and University withdrawal policies regarding tuition and fees, University housing charges, and return of funds to the financial aid programs. General information regarding the calculation of earned financial aid and the order of programs to which we return funds is available upon request.
• If a student’s University charges are reduced as a result of withdrawal, creating a credit balance on the University student account, the credit balance will be used to repay financial aid programs as required, per the return of Title IV funds calculation.
• Withdrawal from the University will require a return of financial aid funds calculation based on the date of withdrawal or last academic related activity. Funds may be returned:
  • If a student never began attendance in classes, for which they enroll.
  • If a student received a financial aid refund from their University student account for living expenses, the student may be required to repay financial aid funds.
  • If a student received financial aid in excess of their earned financial aid, based on the length of their enrollment, they may be required to repay financial aid funds.
  • Students who are assigned grades of “U” (Unsatisfactory), “F” (Failure), or “I” (Incomplete) for all courses in the term will be considered to have unofficially withdrawn from the University and will have federal aid adjusted based on the date of the latest academic event in which the student participated. If no academic event can be documented, 100% of federal aid will be cancelled because the student never began attendance.
• Work-study earnings prior to withdrawal will be paid; however, students may not continue to use work-study funds after withdrawing from the University.

Frequently Asked Questions Regarding Withdrawals and Academic Performance

Do my grades impact my eligibility for financial aid?
Yes, financial aid regulations require that we monitor your academic record. In order to maintain your financial aid eligibility, you must successfully complete at least 67% of all courses attempted, maintain the appropriate GPA (2.0 for undergraduate students by junior status & professional veterinary medicine students and 3.0 for graduate students), and complete your program within the credit limit for your degree. Failure to meet these requirements will result in being placed on one or more of the statuses listed on pages 22-24.

Am I eligible for financial aid if I am academically dismissed from the University?
No, if you are academically dismissed you are no longer admitted to the University and you are not eligible for financial aid. You may be eligible for an alternative loan. Check with SFS if you are interested in this option.

I might have to completely withdraw from the University. What happens to my financial aid?
Contact CASA, (970) 491-7095, if you decide to withdraw from the University. A withdrawal may require an immediate return of financial aid funds in excess of the earned financial aid. Earned financial aid is based on the length of time you were enrolled and attending classes. If you received a financial aid refund from your University student account, you will have to repay any funds that are in excess of the earned financial aid.

What if I leave during the semester without formally withdrawing?
If you leave the University during the semester without officially withdrawing, we are required to verify the last date of attendance and you may have to repay up to 100% of the financial aid you received for that semester. It is important to contact CASA to officially withdraw.
I might qualify for the American Opportunity, Hope and/or Lifetime Learning Tax Credit. What should I do?

Colorado State University provides 1098-T Education tax forms to students in January. A 1098-T is a statement of qualified education expenses paid by you or your parents. Detailed 1098-T information can be found on RAMweb, select Tax Information. Students can authorize parents or trusted individuals to have access to the 1098-T information on RAMweb, Change My Access to My Records (FAMweb). Authorized individuals can access the 1098-T at FAMweb.colostate.edu/famweb. Detailed steps on how to obtain a 1098-T can be found on our website under Paying Your Bill and 1098-T. We recommend you check with your tax advisor or the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) for more information.

Will any of the interest on my student loans be tax deductible when I am in repayment?

Borrowers who are in repayment may be able to deduct student loan interest paid for the first 60 months of repayment. Once you are in repayment, your loan servicer or lender will send you documentation of the amount of student loan interest you paid during the calendar year. We recommend that you check with your tax advisor or the IRS for more information.
